Then, as a consequence, business will fail, population decrease, property depreciate, and the town, by common consent, be left to linger out a dull, stupid, dreary existence. The important position Warren has always held in the Mahoning Valley, can only be maintained in future by drawing to it a share of the great Iron Manufacturing interests already a prominent feature of the region immediately south and east of us, and which, we think is but a fraction in extent to what the great facilities of the Valley will cause to be in the future. The men who have substantial and abiding interests in Warren, can enhance those interests very much by sowing liberally that they may reap much more abundantly.
